

Dear students

of the Faculty of Logistics of the University of Maribor,

At the beginning of the new academic year, I welcome you to the faculty, and I wish you a successful study full of optimism and motivation.

I know that the competition between you is very high and it depends only on you how good a logistician you will be after you finish your studies. It is important that you study seriously and enthusiastically from today onwards. Besides acquiring new knowledge, in your studies, you will also shape your personality and become a more mature and responsible individual able to tackle every problem in an original but also potentially successful way.

The study programme offers a lot of current, attractive content. Namely, we follow all trends both in Slovenia and in the international environment. Therefore I really recommend you to be creative and motivated, to propose new ideas and also to connect internationally. Take advantage of all the possibilities that the faculty offers them to you. This will bring you a lot of new experiences, which will guide you on the life path you really want, professionally as well as personally.

Of course, do not forget that the study years are beautiful and full of active life. Therefore, plan your free time well and maintain physical and mental fitness for all the activities study years bring you.

Be proud to be a student of the Faculty of Logistics and part of the university community and the network of internationally recognized and unique specialized faculties for logistics and supply chains in Slovenia.

I wish you a successful start as you enter the academic year 2023/2024, a successful study and to feel well at our faculty.

Sincerely yours,

Dean

prof. dr. Maja Fošner
